

THE TRAVELER'S SAFETY CARD

5 things to check before you trust any situation abroad.

01 Baggage Claim

Thieves work in pairs and time your distraction. Keep your carry-on between your legs — never on the floor. Watch the belt, not your phone, until your bag is in your hand.

02 Airport Taxi

A driver with your name on a sign is not proof they're legitimate. Only ride cars you booked yourself through a verified app before landing. Screenshot the driver name and plate before you walk out.

03 Hotel Check-In

One key card tells everyone nearby you're traveling alone. Always ask for two keys — the desk assumes a companion is coming. If your room number is said out loud, ask to be moved.

04 Cruise Cabin

The main latch doesn't fully lock your balcony door. Find the small flip lock at the top of the sliding door frame. Check it every time you leave the cabin. Takes 3 seconds.

05 USB Charging

Public USB ports open a data channel — not just power. Use a USB data blocker ($7, fits on a keychain) or a wall outlet. If your phone asks 'Trust this device?' — always tap No.
